PREPARING FOR WAR

England Getting Her Naval and Military Forces Ready.

SHIPS ORDERED TO CAPE TOWN.

The Stand Taken by Emperor William of Germany Causing Much Indignation Throughout Great Britain — Emperor William in Direct Communication With Russia and President Kruger.

LONDON, Jan. 9.—The gravity of the political crisis here is increasing instead of diminishing. The attitude of Emperor William toward Great Britain, in the matter of Dr. Jameson's freebooting expedition into the Transvaal, upon closer study, seems to have been deliberately and long and carefully planned. The Transvaal incident, it would appear, was only the pretext seized upon by the emperor in order to enter the field as an active opponent of Great Britain's policy of aggrandizement in Africa, and her little misunderstanding with the King of Ashantee, together with her support of Italy's warfare against Abyssinia, are believed to have been the irritating features which finally induced his majesty to show his hand.

Of course, this is only a sample of the rumors in circulation, but it shows the drift of the wind, and has served to incense the British to a degree not witnessed since war with Russia was threatened some years ago.

To make matters worse, it is now reported that the Transvaal republic will demand an indemnity of $2,500,000 from Great Britain as one of the results of Dr. Jameson's invasion of the little Dutch republic. If this turns out to be the case, no doubt will be entertained that Emperor William, in his recent interviews with Dr. W. J. Leyds, the secretary of state of the Transvaal, prompted this demand, and may also have announced his intention of supporting it.

The German emperor, it appears, had planned to land a force of Germans at Delagoa bay in order to assist the Poers against the British, and only desisted from so doing when he learned of Dr. Jameson's defeat and capture. This, it is claimed, is proof that his message to President Kruger, congratulating him upon his victory over the British and his majesty's reported announcement to Dr. W. J. Leyds, the secretary of state of the Transvaal, that Germany refused to recognize any suzerainty over the Transvaal were well-weighed moves and the result of a pre-arranged policy.

Under these circumstances, and in view of the war preparations by land now being vigorously pushed by Great Britain, it is not astonishing that there was an ominous drop in consols, which, as much as anything, is a clear indication that the gravity of the political situation is not a newspaper exaggeration.

Dispatches from Berlin announce that Emperor William had an important conference yesterday with Dr. Kaysler, chief of the German colonial office, and that further dispatches have been exchanged between Berlin and Pretoria.

Great Britain is evidently determined not to be caught unprepared for war. The report that orders have been sent to Portsmouth, Devonport and Chatham for immediate commissioning of a flying squadron of warships is confirmed, and has caused a profound impression in all circles. The flying squadron is ordered to be ready for sea by Tuesday next.

Admiral Bedford has also been instructed to report immediately to the admiralty what additional steps are necessary to re-enforce his squadron, and they will be sent to him as promptly as possible. Besides these preparations, the greatest activity is displayed at all the dockyards, which are making ready for a call for the commissioning of more ships as soon as needed, and the naval reserve lists are being prepared, in readiness for an emergency.

All the regiments of the British army (any reserve, volunteers, militia, etc.) have been ordered to make immediate returns of their strength for mobilization; but as yet no further steps in this direction have been deemed necessary. Among the volunteers and militia there is a strong feeling in favor of enrollment for active service, and on all sides the greatest enthusiasm is displayed.

There seems to be a feeling here that Great Britain has about stood all she can stand in the way of studied opposition on the part of Germany, even if the latter is backed by France and Russia, which is not considered to be by any means certain.

At the war office it was stated that the troops returning from India or bound for that part of the British empire, had been ordered to call at Cape Town before the crisis occurred, and that is necessary to instruct their commanding officers to land at the cape. It was further stated that detachments of troops are now on their way to Cape Town to relieve the troops there, and that the latter will be instructed to remain at the cape for the present, so that double forces will shortly be available at Cape Colony, besides the Indian troops en passage, which can be landed there shortly.

A later dispatch from Berlin says that Prince Hohenlohe, the imperial chancellor, was present at the conference between Emperor William and Dr. Kaiser, chief of the German colonial office.

Another special from Berlin says that Prince Von Radolin, the German ambassador to St. Petersburg, who has been at the German capital, has returned to St. Petersburg, bearing a letter from Emperor William to the czar dealing with the Transvaal question.

A dispatch received from Cape Town says it is reported at Pretoria that the Transvaal government demands the banishment of Mr. Cecil Rhodes, premier of Cape Colony, and Dr. Jameson from Africa, and that an enormous fine is also demanded from the British Chartered company. It is supposed here that this may refer to the $2,500,000 indemnity which, according to a dispatch from Berlin, the Transvaal government will demand of Great Britain.

It Was a British Plot.

PRETORIA, Transvaal, Jan. 9.—The authorities here hold documentary evidence showing that the whole affair of the Jameson raid and the uprising in Johannesburg has been a plot to annex the Transvaal to British South Africa.

POSTOFFICE THIEVES ARRESTED.

Two of a Dangerous and Noted Gang Locked Up in New York City.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Two alleged postoffice thieves, said to be members of the gang in which Killoran, Allen and Russel, who escaped from Ludlow street jail on July 4, were shining lights, are locked up at police headquarters. They are George Carson, who has also been known as Haywood, and John Slauson and Sidney Yennie, who also has paraded under many aliases. Carson said he was a clerk from Philadelphia, and Yennie claims to be a salesman from Boston.

The men are wanted for the robbery on Jan. 1, 1894, of the postoffice at Patagonia, L. I., when $1,700 worth of postage stamps were taken.

Yennie was once the comrade of the burghers, Ruth Miner and "Little Horace" Hogan, who in March, 1878, while in Petersburgh, Va., stole $200,000 worth of bonds belonging to J. K. Young of this city. He served seven years for robbing a man of $325 through the "drop game" in a bank in Toronto. He also served a term for picking a man's pocket in Philadelphia in 1873.

Carson's last known feat was the theft in 1880, in connection with Hogan and Miner, of $56,000 in bonds and $8,500 in cash from a bank in Middletown, Conn.

Indicted in Illinois.

SPRINGFIELD, Ills., Jan. 9.—The United States grand jury yesterday returned indictments against George Carson, John Slauson and Sidney Yennie, for robbing the postoffice here of $8,000 in stamps on April 8. Those men were arrested in New York yesterday, and are alleged to be accomplices of Killoran, Russell and Allen, who committed the robbery.

HANGING IN MISSISSIPPI.

Fully Three Thousand People Witness the Execution, Which Was Public.

AUGUSTA, Miss., Jan. 9.—F. D. Hathorn, white, and Thompson Wade, colored, were hanged here yesterday afternoon for the murder of Mrs. Hathorn. Fully 3,000 people witnessed the execution, which was public. Wade made a statement, saying that what he had sworn to at the trial was true. Hathorn, in a statement, denied that he had asked Wade to kill Mrs. Hathorn. The drop fell at 12:04 o'clock. The necks of both men were broken by the fall. Hathorn was pronounced dead in five minutes, and Wade's heart ceased to beat three minutes later.

The crime for which Hathorn and Wade were executed was the murder of Mrs. Hathorn on Oct. 7 last. Hathorn had quarreled often with his wife and he determined to get rid of her. On the day of the murder he approached Wade and offered him $250 and a pony to kill Mrs. Hathorn. Wade at first refused, but upon being threatened with death he finally consented to do Hathorn's bidding. Early in the evening Wade approached the house and meeting Hathorn received his final instructions. The negro walked around the house to a window, through which he could see Mrs. Hathorn seated in a chair. The latter arose and reached for something on the mantle, thus exposing her left side to the negro, who fired a shotgun charged with buckshot, killing the woman instantly. Wade is reported to have made a confession, implicating Hathorn. Both men were tried on Nov. 20 and the jury, after being out 30 minutes, returned a verdict of guilty, and the men were sentenced to be hanged.

Death of a French Poet.

PARIS, Jan. 9.—Paul Verlaine, the poet, is dead. He was born at Metz on March 30, 1844. His father was a captain in the engineers. He began to write poetry at an early age, and was at first classed with the Parnassians, but afterward became a principal exponent of "symbolism" and "decadence." Eccentricity of form and the choice of unusual themes were the characteristics of his poetry, which at different times has enjoyed a mild popularity in France. M. Verlaine published quite a long list of works running over a period from 1865 to a very recent date.

Where Is the Miowera?

TORONTO, Jan. 9.—The Canadian Pacific officials here, having received no news of the missing steamship Miowera, begin to express grave fears for the safety of the vessel. The fact that a lifeboat belonging to the Miowera was found floating in the Pacific, they say, does not necessarily mean that the steamer has gone down, for the lifeboat may have been washed off by great waves. They think it possible that the Miowera is drifting about helplessly as was the Strathnavis.

CRISIS IN VENEZUELA

A Rebellion Has Sprung Up Against the Government.

TROOPS HAVE CROSSED THE LINE

It Is Believed That the British Party in Venezuela Is Plotting to Overthrow President Crespo—English Papers Acknowledge the Critical State of Affairs and Are Ready for Arbitration.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—A dispatch to The World from Caracas says: News of grave import has just been received from the Guayana frontier. The government is notified that troops, with rifle and cannon, from Damarara, have arrived at Cuyuni, a station at the extreme limit of the English claims in the disputed territory, and the scene of the Yuruan incident, where English officials were arrested by Venezuelans.

The number of invaders is uncertain. Some of the papers say there are over 1,000, but that is probably an exaggeration. They are possibly a few hundred Guiana police. The government gives no official notice as to what action it will take. It is probable, however, that it will send some troops to the scene with orders to be cautious, but at the same time to resist invasion.

Political arrests continue to be made daily. The government prisons are full and the polytechnic school has been converted into a prison, the students being transferred to the Academy of Fine Arts.

The belief is increasing that the enemies of the government are being aided by British gold. It is even rumored that England will furnish the rebels with a warship.

The militia enlistments to date number 11,000. In the case of boys under 16 the authority of the parents is required. Among the applicants have been 10 septuagenarians.

President Crespo has issued a remarkable decree officially recognizing the existence of the revolutionary movement. He says that in view of the fact that the country is on the verge of an international conflict, he regards it not as revolution, but as treason. Then he cites the section of the penal code declaring treason. He asks the presidents of the different states to ratify his action, but he will also ask congress to act.

It is believed that Crespo's decree is aimed especially at Gutman Blanco or Rojas Paul, who are supposed to be treating with England in the interest of the rebellion. The penal code says that any Venezuelan conniving with a foreign government against the independence, the institution or the sovereignty of the republic is guilty of treason.

It is rumored that the leaders of the rebellion will be executed, as the decree asks for authority to inflict the death penalty, which is forbidden in Venezuela except in time of war or on occasions of imminent peril. Rojas Paul is at present on the English island Trinidad.

Another sensation has been created by the issue of an order prohibiting communication between ships and the shore. It is especially aimed at the American citizen, Schimmel, the agent of the Red D. line, at La Guayra. Captain Delano, of the Red D. line steamer Philadelphia, made a protest to President Crespo against the order. He said it stopped work on the vessel. The president replied that the order was necessary, but that he would try to exempt Americans. There is no official charge against Schimmel.

Something serious is brewing, but rumors are vague as to its character.

The situation is alarming.

ENGLAND ALARMED.

It Is Now Thought She Will Recognize Our Venezuelan Commission.

London, Jan. 9.—The Times this morning publishes an editorial with reference to the New York World's Caracas dispatch telling of suspicions that the British party in Venezuela is plotting to overthrow President Crespo and pleads with the government in presence of the danger of further trouble to publish the papers setting forth the British case on the Venezuelan question forthwith, without waiting for the meeting of parliament.

The Chronicle has a long article in advocacy of a permanent court of arbitration, and it says of this: "Naturally, such a tribunal must be constituted subject to America's reasonable views upon the Monroe doctrine."

Cardinal Vaughn, when approached on this subject, gave the idea his warmest approval.

CONFlict IMPENDING.

Cuban Insurgents Expected to Attack Havana at Any Hour.

HAVANA, Jan. 9.—An important conflict seems to be impending.

The Spanish columns everywhere in the vicinity of Havana have been called in.

Gomez evidently is consolidating his forces. The insurgents are in two large bodies. One, under Maceo, is near Ceiba del Agua, on the boundary line between the provinces of Havana and Pinar del Rio. The other, under Gomez, is west and south of Guanajay, over the border in Pinar del Rio province.

There are several bands of insurgents in sight of the capital, and an attack on the city is hourly expected. Every effort is being made to protect the suburban approaches, especially the waterworks and the electric light station.

Along the line of the railway running south from Havana, it is learned that the insurgents have destroyed 16 culverts, thus effectively cutting off communication for the time being.

Sympathy with the insurgents, it is reported, is known to exist in Havana outside of official circles, and there is said to be apprehension of an uprising in conjunction with the insurgent advance.

The Cubans believe that the end of the revolution is rapidly approaching, and say that Campos is defeated without any attack on Havana.

GROWING SMALLER EVERY DAY.

The Gold Reserve Now in the United States Treasury Is Only $57,816,024.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The treasury yesterday lost $430,000 in gold bars, which leaves the true amount of the reserve $57,816,024. Nothing is known at the treasury department, so far as can be learned, of any concerted movement by the bankers to protect the reserve by making gold deposits, and up to the hour of closing the statement published that Zimmerman & Forshay, bullion dealers of New York, had deposited $50,000, had not been verified by Assistant Treasurer Jordan. In fact, the only considerable deposit during the last several weeks was made Tuesday by the Mercantile National bank, which exchanged $500,000 in gold for currency.

So far as can be learned the situation shows no signs of improvement and no surprise would be felt here if heavy shipments of gold should be made on each of the fast-going European steamers for some time to come. Arrangements are being perfected at the treasury for the printing of the new bonds, and a number of applications for blanks to be used in making bids are being received by each mail. No formal bids, however, have yet been received.

The treasury deficit for the present fiscal year yesterday reached $20,039,439.

Yesterday's Shipment.

NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—The shipments of gold by yesterday's steamers amounted to $2,728,620.

HAD A POSTOFFICE OF HIS OWN.

An Ex-Postmaster Continued to Sell Stamps and Collect Mail.

CLEVELAND, Jan. 9.—C. W. Tourgee, ex-postmaster at West Williamsfield, O., and the present chairman of the Ashtabula county Republican committee, was arrested by the United States authorities yesterday and brought to this city and placed in jail. The specific charge against him is having a large sign displayed in front of his store with the word "postoffice" on it.

Mr. Tourgee was appointed postmaster at West Williamsfield by President Harrison and was removed two years ago by President Cleveland. He continued, however, to operate a postoffice, selling stamps and collecting mail which he delivered to the mail trains. Mr. Tourgee claims he was ignorant of the fact that he was violating any law. He was arrested on complaint of the regularly appointed postmaster.

Oklahomites Can Not Agree.

OKLAHOMA, Jan. 9.—At 8:15 last night the statehood convention came to an ignominious end. At that hour the committee on credentials, having been unable to report owing to the strife between the "single staters" and the "double staters," Chairman Hensley declared the convention adjourned sine die. For half an hour afterward the utmost confusion prevailed, and finally, when the uproar was approaching the proportions of a riot, Sheriff Deford turned out the lights and ordered the delegates from the hall into the street. This, it is believed, will end all organized effort to secure statehood from the present congress.

Pension Fund Increased.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The subcommittee of the house appropriations committee having charge of the pension bill, has decided to increase the amount for the next fiscal year from $188,000,000 to $140,000,000. The last amount was that asked for by Commissioner Lochren in his estimates. Some of the most influential Republicans thought that congress should not put itself on record as allowing less money for pensions than the commissioner thought was needed, so the bill was raised to the original estimates.

Bank Burglarized.

TOLEDO, Jan. 9.—A special to The Blade from Fayette, O., says the Fayette bank was entered last night by burglars and $3,700 in money and about $4,000 in bonds taken. There is no clew to the perpetrators. The bank was insured in the Bankers' Fidelity and Casualty company, New York. The vault was blown open, the door being torn into fragments. The robbers overlooked a bag of $100 in gold, which was found lying on the floor.

Latest From the Porte.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The Turkish legation has received from the sublime porte the following telegram: "Contrary to the assertion made, the incident provoked by the Armenians at Birdjik had no very serious importance. Order has been restored; thanks to the energetic measures taken by the local authorities. Thirty-one Mussulman and Armenians were killed and 50 wounded. No disorders have taken place anywhere else."

ALREADY there is a Republican Kilkenney fight over the distribution of offices as made by the House of Representatives, says the Frankfort correspondent of the Louisville Post. The fact that the mountains took every thing in sight and left the other districts but one or two insignificant plums has created a marked disturbance among those left out in the cold, and it threatens to play the mischief with the party in elections hereafter to be held. All sorts of threats have been made.

THE colored brethren fight nobly and the Republicans of Kentucky would not be in it a little bit were it not for the colored vote. When it comes to a division of the spoils, however, there is very little left for the negro. They have been passing the pie at Frankfort this week, and the correspondent of the Louisville Post says:

The colored Republicans are mad as hornets over the way they have been treated, and say white folks' promises are not worth a continental, especially when it comes to rewards for party services. The Louisville negro contingent here will return home with knives up their sleeves.

THE SUNNY SOUTH.

Fortune Smiled on Her Last Year.
Something About Her Wonderful Industrial Growth.

[Baltimore Manufacturers' Record.]

The year just ended has been one which for all time to come will be noted in the records of Southern progress as one of the most important periods in the business history of the South. Looking back over 1895, we can see that for the South it has been a year of marvelous achievement. When the general business depression which has existed throughout the world for several years is taken into account, it will be realized that the South accomplished wonderful things during 1895. It was a year free from speculative activity, and a year in which there was no hurrah or booming business seen in parts of the South, but in all this great territory there has been a solid, substantial foundation laid for greater growth than was ever before seen in the South, if not in any other part of the country.

He attributes a great portion of this prosperity to the Atlanta Exposition, of which he says that its influence will be felt for years to come, and that its effect on the future of the South can not be measured in figures.

Of the iron industry of the South he says: A large number of plants which had been idle for several years went into operation during the last twelve months, some having been started up by their former owners, some having passed into the hands of new and strong concerns, which secured large properties at prices which promise very liberal returns. He deems the recent award to the Newport News Ship-building Company of the contract to build two Government warships at a cost of $4,500,000 the next most important event of the year, as emphasizing the power of the South in the business interests of the country.

Of the cotton manufacturing industries he says cotton mill building made greater progress during 1895 in the South than ever before. The aggregate number of spindles for new mills undertaken during the year and for the enlargements of old mills, was, in round numbers, about 1,000,000, or probably twice as great as ever before recorded in one year.

In round numbers, the South has now, including mills in operation and those under construction or for which the money has been raised, about 4,000,000 spindles in sight, all of which will be in full operation before the close of the present crop year.

The following summary of new industries is given:

The total for 1895 was 3,097 against 2,829 in 1894, and 2,293 in 1893. It will be noted that the most marked increase was in cotton mills, cotton compresses and cottonseed oil mills, other enterprises showing comparatively few material changes. The number of cotton mills projected increased from 44 in 1894 to 167 in 1895; the number of cotton compresses from 12 to 32, and of cottonseed oil mills from 15 to 38.

VERY BITTER,

Grows the Fight Among Republicans Over the Senatorship—Hunter Losing.

It is "anything to beat Hunter" in the Senatorial contest now on among the Republicans at Frankfort, and it begins to look very much like the "field" has got him down.

When it comes to uniting on some one of the numerous other aspirants, however, the "combine" is liable to go to pieces, and the Irishman from Burkeville may then walk off with the nomination.

The fight among the Republicans has grown very bitter, and if Hunter is defeated there will be some big scores to even up hereafter.

The anti-Hunter combine worked a neat trick on the "gum-shoe" politician. Senator Jones was put up for Chairman of the joint Republican caucus. The Hunter forces were lead to believe that Jones favored their man, and they put him through with a whoop. Imagine their consternation, when Jones a little later informed Hunter he was furnishing him. Maybe Hunter and his crowd were not hot at being tricked so easily.

The fight has grown so bitter that the editor of the Lexington Leader lifts up his voice in warning, and demands "fair play." He declares the opposition to Hunter is not creditable, and thinks it is sure to create lasting dissension. Here is what he says:

A visit to Frankfort at this time and a study of the Senatorial situation are enough to make a Republican almost wish the Democrats had carried the General Assembly in the late election; and I firmly believe it would have been better for the future of the Republican party had they done so.

The Leader has avoided taking sides in the Senatorial canvass, believing that in its position as a representative party newspaper it ought not espouse the cause of one candidate against another in a contest within the party ranks.

Still holding to this view of the duty of The Leader to the party, I must enter a protest against the character of warfare being waged on Hon. W. G. Hunter by the combined Senatorial opposition, or at least those pretending to act in its interest.

The tactics resorted to under the inspiration of the "Anything to beat Hunter" war cry would do credit to Democratic caucuses in the palmiest days of that party, and if continued until a nomination is made will we fear leave the party in a demoralized and disorganized condition, unfit to give battle to Democracy when the supreme test must come.

The Democrats are looking on with complacency and are confident that the Republican nominee whoever he may be, will not be the next Senator.

The machinery has already been ordered, and it is expected here sometime next week. It will be set up at once, and hereafter the company will saw all the lumber needed in its line of business.

Other improvements are contemplated as soon as spring opens.

In Olden Times

People overlooked the importance of permanently beneficial effects and were satisfied with transient action; but now that it is generally known that Syrup of Figs will permanently cure habitual constipation, well-informed people will not buy other laxatives, which act for a time, but finally injure the system.

The Legislature.

The State Senate completed its organization yesterday by electing Senator Goebel, of Covington, President pro tem., and Mrs. Emma Walker Herr, of Lexington, Enrolling Clerk.

The fight for the latter position narrowed down to Mrs. Herr and Mr. C. B. Willis, of Brooksville, the final vote resulting 13 to 9 in favor of Mrs. H.

She is a daughter of Rev. H. P. Walker, formerly Presiding Elder of the Maysville district, M. E. Church, South.

The House was not in session yesterday, having adjourned in honor of St. Jackson's Day.

The camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and there it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue and foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by all druggists.

Merger would make a good manager for such a team, and that is his object in coming here. He will stay and work up the movement.

TO TAKE IN HAWAII.

Striking Resolution Introduced in the House by Mr. Spalding.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The subject of the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands was broached in the house yesterday by Mr. Spalding (Rep., Mich.) in the form of a resolution. The resolution provided that the Sandwich Islands be erected into a new state to be called the state of Hawaii, with a republican form of government, to be adopted by the people, through deputies in convention, with the consent of the existing government.

Conditions were imposed that questions of boundary or complications with other governments be transmitted to the president to be laid before congress for its final action before Jan. 1, 1898; that all property pertaining to the public defense be ceded to the United States, but the state retain all other property and the United States to be liable for none of its debts.

The resolution proposes as an alternative that Hawaii may be admitted as a state by treaties between the two governments, with one representative in congress, and proposes an appropriation of $100,000 for making the treaties.

The resolution was read by unanimous consent and referred to the committee on foreign affairs.

Upon his request Mr. Harrison (Dem., Ala.) was relieved from service on the election committee No. 2 because his seat is contested, and Mr. Bailey (Dem., Tex.) was appointed in his stead.

Mr. Henderson (Rep., Ia.) stated that the committee on rules were not ready to report, and at 12:45 the house adjourned.

Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—In the senate Mr. Wolcott of Colorado, who has been absent in Europe for some months, was present and took the prescribed oath. He was very warmly received by his associates on both sides of the chamber.

Mr. Hale, from the committee on naval affairs, reported back favorably a bill authorizing the secretary of the navy to increase the number of enlisted men in the navy. He directed attention to the importance of the bill and gave notice that he would call it up at an early day.

Mr. Butler (Pop., N. C.) offered two amendments to the free coinage substitute for the house bond bill. The first prohibited the sale of interest bearing bonds without the express consent of congress, and the second made it mandatory on the secretary of the treasury to redeem greenbacks and treasury notes in silver as long as the market price of 412 1-2 grains of silver was lower than that of 29 1-2 grains of gold.

At the conclusion of the morning hour Mr. Sherman (Rep., O.) moved that the senate adjourn. He explained that an early adjournment would facilitate the work of the senate (it being understood that the Republicans desired to hold a caucus).

Mr. Stewart (Pop., Nev.) requested Mr. Sherman to withdraw his motion in order to give him an opportunity to make some remarks on the financial questions, but the Ohio senator declined to yield.

No Change in the House Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The feature of the Republican senatorial caucus held yesterday was a discussion of the advisability of amending the house tariff bill by adding a free coinage amendment to it in the senate. This discussion was confined largely to the free coinage wing of the party. The result of the meeting was the adoption of Senator Quay's resolution expressing the sense of the caucus to be that the finance committee should report the bill as it came from the house with a few verbal changes, which will not alter the meaning of any essential feature.

NO PRISONERS TO TRY.

Two Negroes Taken From a Sheriff and Hanged by a Mob.

LEXINGTON, Tenn., Jan. 9.—The trial of Frank Simpson and Harrison Fuller, colored, charged with having outraged Mrs. Pomery, a widow, and her 16-year-old daughter, in this county, last August, was to have occurred here yesterday and for this purpose, the two negroes were brought in on the noon train from Nashville, where the sheriff had placed them for safekeeping.

They were met here by a mob of some 400 or 500 men, who at once proceeded to administer the law of Judge Lynch by suspending the two negroes to a railroad trestle, about a mile from town, and when this was done, at a signal from the leader, the mob fired a volley of some 200 or 300 shots into the negroes, almost perforating their bodies, after which the mob quietly dispersed. Simpson confessed his guilt before he was hanged, while Fuller maintained that he was innocent until the last. The mob made no attempt at disguise, but were strict and orderly.

A NEW ON FIELD.

ALLIANCE, O., Jan. 9.—The Alliance Oil and Gas company have apparently developed a new field near Bergholz, 40 miles south of here, in Jefferson county. The company has 2,500 acres leased and two wells completed, both being producers. Arrangements are being made to drill two more. Residents of that locality are wildly excited. Oil men are arriving daily, all trying to lease land.

Extent of the Kansas Fire.

WICHITA, Kan., Jan. 9.—A courier has just arrived at Turon, Kan., from Luka and the burned district, who says nothing was burned but weeds and some personal property. The town of Luka was saved by firing against it. So far no fatalities have been reported. The fire is out and no further apprehensions are felt.

Phosphate Land Deal.

NASHVILLE, Jan. 9.—A South Carolina syndicate is negotiating with a party of local capitalists for the purchase of large tracts of phosphate lands in Hickman and other counties south of here. It is said that $600,000 is the price to be paid if the investigation of the property now in progress proves satisfactory.

BOSTON, Jan. 9.—Rose May Abbott, who has been under surveillance of the police since last Tuesday, has confessed that she stole $3,000 worth of diamonds and bonds from the home of her employer, Mrs. Thomas H. Burbeck of this city, last Monday night. She says she was persuaded to commit the crime by George Thing, a young friend of the Burbecks. Thing promised to take the girl away from Boston, and she alleges, painted rosette pictures of how they would live together in some other state. After the robbery they both went to the Providence station and bought tickets for Providence, but Thing left the girl, and has not yet been arrested.

PRIMITIVE FERRIES.

How Travelers In the Ozark Country Cross the White River.

The navigators of the White river have no quarrel with the bridge builders. From Newport, below Batesville, for 200 miles, not a pier profanes the channel. Transportation from side to side is by ferry. There is a crossing every mile or two. Quaint and primitive some of the methods are. Most of the ferryboats are small, flat bottomed craft, without railings on the sides or gates at the ends. At a few of the most frequented north and south roads a cable has been stretched from the tree tops high enough to escape the steamboat chimneys. The boat is attached by ropes, bow and stern, to a pulley running on this cable. When one line is lengthened to give the boat an angling direction with the stream, the current slowly carries the load over to the opposite bank. Such a labor saving appliance, however, is in use very sparingly. Most of the ferrying is done by hand with the pole and sweep. As the Ozark country traveler approaches within hailing distance of the bank he begins to let his voice out with:

"O-o-ov-er!"

In the course of time there is an answering:

"Whoop-ee!"

The ferryman comes slowly down the bank, with his brother, or his son, or with somebody else's son whom he has persuaded it is great fun to help run a ferryboat. Travelers in the Ozark country have often commented on the disproportionate frequency with which the boat is at the bank opposite to that approached. And ferrymen all agree that by a strange perversity the travel is from the direction necessitating a trip across and back to collect one fare. There is time enough to meditate on this problem while the ferryman slowly poles his frail craft along the bank for some distance upstream.

Then, as he grasps the sweep and pulls out for the other side with much puffing and perspiration, there is not time to think of anything else but the inch of pine between dry shoe leather and a current which means a long, hard swim if the boat goes amiss. Accidents are very few. The White river ferryman knows his business and earns his quarter.

"George," said Mr. Webber to the Harvey who was directing the course of the boat, "is that your brother helping you with the boat?"

"Yes," said George, "he's my brother."

"He resembles you," commented Mr. Webber, "but I think he's rather better looking than you are."

"That's because he's well fed," said George. "His wife's a good cook." —Chicago Journal.
